Dedication

As president of the Board of Trustees Carl A. Pescosolido, Jr.'s vision and generosity helped make Governor Dummer a model of excellence, and gave many students the opportunity to attend such a fine school. His tragic death in November has been a great loss for his family and friends, the Governor Dummer community and those who strove for excellence.

Mr. Pescosolido, an Ipswich native, graduated from Governor Dummer in 1955 having been captain of the football team, co-captain of the spring track team and holder of numerous track and field records. He went on to graduate cum laude from Harvard and become an outstanding member of the football and track teams there.

In 1970 he and his family moved to California's San Joaquin Valley to found Sequoia Orange Company. Due to Mr. Pescosolido's business acumen, the Sequoia Orange Co. has become a major fruit and nut enterprise. He often gave away oranges to the needy when he overproduced and was sued by federal authorities for his humanitarian efforts. He fought against federal regulations and produce quotas in the agriculture industry. An advocate for the less fortunate in public and in private, the Los Angeles Times described our president as "California's best known and most articulate crusader for unfettered agricultural markets."

Mr. Pescosolido was a trustee from 1970 on and served as President of the Board from 1980. His drive and vision have enabled Governor Dummer to set lofty goals: superb academics, a talented faculty, a challenging athletics department, excellence in the arts, higher selectivity in admissions and more funding in financial aid so more students can benefit from the Academy as he did. On October 17, 1992 the 48,000 square-foot field house was dedicated to Mr. Pescosolido for his constant dedication and commitment to the Academy for over twenty years. His presence and contribution will be greatly missed and his indomitable spirit will endure.

Mr. Pescosolido's influence as President of the Board of Trustees was immeasurable. Mr. Bragdon, also a classmate of Mr. Pescosolido's at Harvard, said, "Skip's death represents a tremendous loss for Governor Dummer. For more than two decades, he represented a powerful driving force on our board ... his legacy of excellence, generosity and caring will continue to flourish in the Governor Dummer family. He taught us well."

For his dedication and devotion to the Governor Dummer community, we honorably dedicate

OUTWARD BOUND

A true friend is one soul

in two bodies.

In Love With Life

Love your childhood for never again can pretending be real.
Never again can you be a princess, a white stallion, a doctor
All in one day.
Never again are days measured by trees to climb, games to be played,
Dreams to be enacted.
Never again are days timeless
And years endless.

Treasure your teenage time for only then do you experience
The excitement of newness.
Only then does holding hands, a telephone ring, or a goodnight kiss
Set your heart beating with such wild anticipation.
Only then can you do something so right ---
The final layup shot, the victorious election,
The only "A" on the final, the Grand Slam,
The perfect pass or catch in the last ten seconds,
The standing ovation performance -- that one simple act makes you
A STAR.

Only then do you sit behind the wheel of a car
For the first time alone.
Only then can you stretch your wings
Under your parents' protective custody.
Only then are days measured by
The ringing of bells,
Nights by the ringing of telephones and
Endless, it seems, homework;
Summers are forever
School years even longer
Until graduation when you marvel
That you are free from school
But still not FREE.

Look forward to adulthood and
Growing older for it is when you truly
Learn and test yourself.
It is when you can be Emily Webb or Richard Wright
And see things in your past
You never saw before.
It is when you experience a deeper kind of joy,
The joy of feeling a golden band slip on your finger
Suggesting that you belong forever,
Making a promise you want desperately to keep,
Saying, "I do."
The indescribable feeling of warmth
When a life you created is placed in your arms.

Yet at the same moment the weight of Responsibility, Worry, Concern nagging at you,

Asking, "Can you pass this new test?
Do you have what it takes to be a good parent?"
You can't afford to get bad grades this time.
It is when you find peace, when you finally decide,
"I am O.K. I am me. Love me the way I am---
Or you really don't love me."
It is when time is no longer measured by Hours, Days, Weeks, or even Months.
Years pass by
Sometimes seemingly unnoticed
Like the stage manager says,
"You're twenty-one or twenty-two and you make some decisions then Whissh! You're seventy; you've been a lawyer for fifty years and that White-haired person at your side has eaten
Over 50,000 meals with you."
On the inside you feel forever young,
Only the grey hair, wrinkles, and stoop

Give you away.

The Morse Flag

"The most well-prepared of all my students." "She acquits herself commendably with industry and good use of her intelligence." "Her commitment and vitality are rare gifts." "She is a rare gem." These are the comments of her teachers describing this superb student who culminated her career at Governor Dummer by taking AP English, AP Calculus, AP French 5, Accelerated Biology, Post-War American History and Honors English Seminar. Taking such an accelerated program she achieved high honors as one of the top students in her class culminating in selection for the Cum Laude Society.

On her four year tour through Governor Dummer Academy, she performed admirably with our dance program and directed in her senior year Smith & Company, our school dance troupe. She played the flute and piccolo as a valued member of the chamber music ensemble and jazz band. She played varsity soccer and lacrosse, was a representative on the community council, served on project Reach Out, was a member of SADD and president of the French Club. As one of four seniors on the critical Discipline Committee she served with sensitivity, fairness, and quiet courage.

Her accomplishments in academics, the arts, sports and service to her immediate and greater communities create a triumph of record. Her sensitivity, warmth, her ability to remain calm, to value people, to cherish her world create a triumph of attitude. This triumph of grace under pressure creates a truly unique individual who will provide a better world in the years ahead just as she has done in her Governor Dummer years. The winner of the Morse Flag is

Cara Day Marcous

The Academy Prize

She knew no other response then her best when meeting the challenges presented by her four years at Governor Dummer Academy.

As the academic challenge grew during her passage through her years she grew, earning high honors her junior year and taking an academic program which ranged from honors to AP courses. Teachers referred to her industry and her genuine interest in learning. Her academic growth culminated in her being chosen for the Cum Laude Society.

As we have heard her running career was distinguished by her being chosen All-League and All-New England for three years in cross-country — and for captaincies in both cross-country and track. Her excellence in both the fall and spring was a product of quiet, courageous determination.

In music she became an accomplished performer on the piano and with the flute. Here again she revealed her immense dedication by not only performing with breathless beauty but contributing way beyond normal expectations at concerts, chapel services, Alumni dinners and receptions. Such dedication created participation in SADD, the Red Key, the Special Olympics, the Big Sister Program, Project Reach Out and the Interdisciplinary Seminar.

Throughout her immense accomplishments she always has operated with poise, easy friendship with all ages and a pleasant sophistication, and through all her experiences she has remained at ease with her accomplishments. The remarkable winner of the Academy Prize is

Ilse Elvira Abusamra

The Thorndike Hilton Cup

The education of each of us is not a competitive enterprise, although much in American culture today seems to teach our young that all things scholastic have meaning understood only in the language of business, government or professional sport. Learning should be cherished as the fulfillment of human development. Through the presentation of this award, the faculty of Governor Dummer honors the intellectual growth and academic achievements of all its students.

Any ranking scholar must embody diligence along with intelligence. This student has begun to engage the world of ideas.

Not as wages of victory in competition but as an emblem for the scholarship to which we hope all students aspire, it is an honor to award, on behalf of the entire faculty, the Thorndike Hilton Cup and Medal to:

Dawn Marie Morrill

The Moody Kent Prizes

English

Whether she is doing a close reading of the text, writing a sonnet, or emotionally and eloquently leading a class discussion, this young woman brings an enthusiasm and commitment to the task that is central to the core of her being. Not only will she laugh and shake her curly locks at the class and the teacher whom she might be teasing, but that same combination of spontaneity, vitality, and tenacity drives her to ask challenging questions, seek thoughtful answers, and write lucid papers.

Cara Day Marcous

Mathematics

For more than four years mathematics has been a huge success for this student. With a facile mind and an appreciative insight for Descartes' "Queen of Sciences", he has evinced the penchant of all mathematicians for succinctness. Yet he has followed the encouragement to develop a cogent writing style to strengthen his argumentation. He has found joy in his course work and triumph on the mathematics team.

Jeffrey Daniel Hugo

History

He possesses a probing mind, is extremely well-organized, and has the discipline to search for often times obscure answers. He is able to penetrate the core of complex issues and express his analysis incisively and forcefully. He is able to discuss historical trends and patterns, but possesses the perspicacity to identify subtle and critical differences between historical events. He is well-grounded in the world of facts, but delights even more in the area of historical ambiguity.

Mark Nelson Ferrara

Science

She brings dedication, determination and intuitive understanding to all she attempts. A talented three-sport varsity athlete, she earns the highest respect both on the athletic field and in the classroom. Her wide-ranging interests have produced superlative achievements in history, English and Latin as well as mathematics and science. Her parallel success in the humanities no doubt comes from the same ability to read, write and reason critically and intelligently that has set her apart from her classmates in science.

Dawn Marie Morrill

French

Ever since her arrival four years ago, this fourth-year student has shown strong interest in the French language and culture which has assisted her in doing superior work in the French AP course. She is hard-working, consistent, and conscientious. Her preparation is always meticulous. She displays many good insights into literature. She writes French clearly, with good usage of idioms and syntax.

Anne Jeffery Savage

German

This fifth-year honors student has achieved a high degree of proficiency in the study of German Language and Literature. As a junior she distinguished herself as an exchange student in Braunschweig, Germany. As a senior she mastered the demanding role of Gessler in the play Wilhelm Tell performed at the Mt. Holyoke German Play Competition. She has worked continuously with dedication and self-discipline to improve her linguistic skills.

Heather Anne Smith

Latin

With strong instincts for the language, a flair for fluent translation and a sturdy comprehension of grammar and vocabulary, this third-year student has steadily increased his accuracy in the language and his understanding of Roman culture. By applying these faculties to Cicero's prose and Ovid's poetry he has demonstrated a high level of mastery in his study of Latin.

Gerald Daniel Kean, Jr.

Spanish

This fifth-year student has achieved at the honors level in a demanding course. She has shown an active interest in the literature and culture of Spanish-speaking countries which, when added to her diligence and desire to learn, makes her a joy to teach.

Nancy Claire Stevenson

Art

This artist's work expanded and blossomed in an unexpected way during her senior year. She created powerful portraits that focused on particular states of mind, as well as carefree studies of motion and abstraction. She is a force to be reckoned with in the studio. She is focused and determined, yet understands that as an artist, she is above all a communicator. She practices this craft on many fronts, as a dancer, a singer, a writer, and an artist.

Kristen Johanne Hand

Music

A musician, whose exemplary practice habits and countless performances have provided us with many hours of music, for which she has received the heartiest accolades and straight A's. Her talent, joy and pure love of music embody the musicality of her class.

Ilse Elvira Abusamra

Ambrose Speaking Awards

First Prize

The story goes like this: When Demosthenes speaks, the people say, "How well he speaks." In contrast, when Pericles speaks, the people say, "When do we march?" It is often said about this year's winner that he speaks well. Indeed, the other day, the Headmaster acknowledged his outstanding work as Chaplain of the Class of '93. He is a powerful presence on any stage. As deputy Governor Danforth in "The Crucible" he commanded not only the stage, but the building, the grounds, and the hopes and fears of everyone in Essex County. He is a fine Shakespearean actor. He is immortal and profound as the weaver, Nick Bottom who had Bottom's Dream which had no bottom. He has been an outstanding dormitory proctor this year. All who know him count on his loyalty and love. Our favorite cop from West Newbury RFD, Jim, when do we march?

James Tappan Morse

Second Prize

[T]he following words come close to representing the personal philosophy of our next winner. James Baldwin wrote, " ... I love to argue with people who do not agree with me too profoundly, and I love to laugh. I do not like bohemia, or bohemians, I do not like people whose principal aim is pleasure, and I do not like people who are earnest about anything. I don't like people who like me because I'm a Negro; neither do I like people who find in the same accident grounds for contempt. I love America more than any other country in the world, and, exactly for this reason, I insist on the right to criticize her perpetually. I think all theories are suspect, that the finest principles may have to be modified, or may even be pulverized by the demands of life, and that one must find, therefore, one's own moral center and move through the world hoping that this center will guide one aright. I consider that I have many responsibilities, but none greater than this: to last, as Hemingway says, and get my work done."

Imani Malik Butler

Third Prize

This young man has style. Did you see him volunteering at Anna Jacques Hospital in Newburyport? Better yet, did you see him dressed as a Beefeater outside the Sheraton Tara in Danvers? Did you hear him playing solo classical piano? Did you hear him accompany on a torch song? Did you hear him speak at the ceremony last night? Non sibi sed aliis is often evoked here in Byfield, but never has it been elucidated with such wit and warmth as it was last night by this year's third place winner.

David Mark Mollov

Special Prizes

From the mountains to the playing field he is a competitor and a servant. His heart and his future will rest in the forest; his actions win athletic contests in football and lacrosse and create a better community through service as a head tour guide and a leader of Special Olympics and wherever friends need steadiness and maturity. Combination mountain man, athlete, student and friend, he will make his mark.

Joshua Corey Bromley

She is an exhilarating student who, according to one of her teachers "loves ideas, loves tossing them around, chewing on them, refining them." She is a superb athlete who has persisted through major injuries. Above all she is a concerned citizen of the nation and the world who has the confidence to be an advocate for a better future for all mankind.

Cynthia Niemeyer White

Artistic and musical she has saturated our campus with her talent. She radiates excellence on the stage as a singer, dancer and actress. She radiates similar excellence as a leader, as a genuine presence on the campus and as a student who pierces the heart of a subject — whose academic career culminated in selection to the Cum Laude Society.

Kristen Johanne Hand

A student who chooses the most challenging of courses — and excels, a proctor who guides himself and his charges on a steady course, and a determined runner, he chooses to be excellent in his endeavors and when making such choices he remains modest and steady. His selection for the Cum Laude Society was the culmination of a remarkable academic career at Governor Dummer Academy.

Colin Timothy O'Neill

In the back row of the color picture of the student body he can be seen in his Montreal Canadian hockey jersey. His commitment to learning, to leadership, to competition reflects that great tradition in which he was raised. During his Governor Dummer years he has accelerated academically, stepped forward in the crunch situations in sports and has been a leader in the dormitory, in Red Key and on teams.

Martin P. Laperriere

Advanced Placement level courses dominate her course selection; her enthusiasm for learning is contagious. She leaves Governor Dummer Academy a better place through constant and genuine concern for others through her membership in the Discipline Committee, SADD, Special Olympics, Red Key, and service to her church.

Andrea Kelley Manning

"Perseverance! Perseverance! Perseverance!" are the initial words of his advisor's recent comments. As he creates success in a foreign school while he has made his own he has been gracious and caring at every juncture of his relationships with adults and peers. He will be a remarkable doctor with his obvious commitment to his fellow man.

Alberto Dominguez Beautell

Curious and capable, self-deprecating in his humor, always ready to take the extra step in service to others, he has proven to be one of the outstanding pianists in a recent Governor Dummer history which has featured strong pianists. Whether serving as a member of the Discipline Committee or as a hospital volunteer, he has distinguished himself as a leader.

David Mark Mollov

The Peter Marshall French Memorial Trophy

Dogged determination has characterized this competitor's approach to athletics. Captain of field hockey and ice hockey and a regular contributor to lacrosse, it is interesting and significant that each one of her teams was involved in remarkable improvement this year. It is also interesting and significant to observe that her accomplishments on the field have immense support from a legion of loyal fans. Modest and quiet about her accomplishments, she makes her impact with her actions.

Katherine Grace Mack

The Goodwin Athletic Prize

This young man came to Governor Dummer Academy as a sophomore and immediately made contributions to the varsity teams. His junior year was characterized by nationally recognized and All-League play in football; spectacular moves and the ability to dominate in basketball; and blazing speed on the relay team in track. During his senior year, he captained the football and basketball teams, and earned both the team MVP and ISL honors in basketball. His performance on the track team this spring is a major reason why another New England Championship banner for the track program will be hoisted in Alumni Gym. He moves on to compete in intercollegiate athletics at the Division One level at the University of Wisconsin leaving behind his many outstanding accomplishments.

Archibald Everett Seale, Jr.

The Anne Marie Murphy Athletic Award

She was destined to leave her mark. A four-year varsity competitor in both cross-country and track, she has earned numerous accolades in cross-country, she has been voted to the ISL Team three times; to the New England New-Star Team three times; she has won the Gilbert Distance Award, two Coaches Awards, and been at the core of the Women's cross-country program which has gone undefeated two of the past three years. In track, she was voted team captain in both her junior and senior year. Despite all this recognition, many agree that we will remember this outstanding young woman by her unselfish behavior exhibited every day at practice or at a meet. She would cross the finish line exhausted but find the strength to immediately turn around and cheer the other competitors on 'til the end. Indeed, she has left her mark in talent, leadership, unselfishness, commitment, and desire. She moves on to Bates College in the fall where I am sure we will hear more from her.

Ilse Elvira Abusamra

The Barriskill Prize

In a class so full of talented musicians, the winner of this year's Barriskill Prize in music may come as a surprise to some, but not to those who have observed this musician's outstanding progress and mastery of many musical styles and instruments. Upon arrival at the Academy, this musician could barely play one instrument, let alone the four that he has studied for the past four years. His achievements and progress are a testament to hard work, steady practice, vision and love. He has been inspirational not only to his peers and fellow musicians, but also to his teachers, by whom he is greatly loved and appreciated. From Miles Davis to Eric Satie, from Freddie Hubbard to the Red Hot Chili Peppers, no matter whether on piano, guitar, drums or bass, he has excelled among stiff competition.

The Thespian Award

At his first audition at Governor Dummer Academy he stood up and sang a song a capella. He is a positive and supportive member of the acting community. He has charisma and panache. Furthermore, he prepares and before tryouts could be heard on the piano in the Cobb Room practicing the songs of the approaching show. Having played a dashing Romeo and with Josh Lappin a heroic M.C. in "Pippin" he will always be remembered for his final part on the Governor Dummer stage, the erstwhile company man in "How To Succeed in Business": Finch, F-I-N-C-H, J. Pierpont Finch.

The Mercer Art Prize

In his artwork, he creates other landscapes and fantasy worlds. He is adept at drawing caricatures and portraits, but the common thread through all his work is his sense of humor, and his hard work. He is willing to spend several days fleshing out the details of a sailing ship from the time of Christopher Columbus, or a field with a waterfall springing out of it, all from his imagination. First, to see a vision, and then to realize it. To convince us all of another world and all its beauty, this is his talent. He has been a strong student himself, and he is also a role model to the other students in his self-motivation and understanding of the arts.

Alexander Carleton MacLachlan

Kenseth Maranda Thibideau

Robert William Clapp, Jr.

The Cumings Prize

Go to Wednesday's Chapel Serivce; who has chosen he speaker? Who is repeatedly on duty as a Mansion House Proctor? on a Saturday night? Who along with a ompatriot guides the young of Phillips Dormitory? Who will listen to your story before the Discipline Committee? Who will be occupying a major part with his ooming voice in a major play? In his Spring Project as n associate in a police department who might arrest you f you speed through West Newbury? Who is always vailable for students and teachers to be a friend? There as never been a more deserving recipient of the Cumngs Prize.

James Tappan Morse

The Gaffney Prize

One of the most respected individuals on campus, he is friendly and unassuming in the wake of success in the classroom and immense success on great football teams. During his Governor Dummer years he has always provided the extra favor, such as the needed tour of a visitor, without any hesitation. He would probably cite his role as associate coach of our third basketball team — and the respect of his charges — as the most significant experience of an outstanding senior year.

Shawn Thomas Markey

The Alumni Association Award

The 1993 recipient has, in both nature and deed, epitomized those values of community spirit, awareness, and humanity throughout his time at Governor Dummer Academy. He has served well as both a leader and a role model for peers and underclassmen alike, and leaves the Academy having touched the lives of many people.

The outstanding career of this year's recipient of the Alumni Award began as a Freshman. A strong student possessed of intellectual curiosity and brave determination, this year's award winner has been deeply involved in many aspects of Governor Dummer Academy. As a student he took on a challenging four year program including three Advanced Placement courses. Despite this demanding course load, he earned Academic Honors every semester here.

He has been extremely successful in his athletic pursuits where he established school records in track as a sprinter and was a valuable member of the varsity football team. In addition to these accomplishments, he found time to serve the school as the editor-in-chief of the Milestone and an effective dormitory proctor.

This list of accomplishments does not really capture the essence of this year's winner. Above all he is a friend to all on campus. He is compassionate, considerate and a true gentleman.

Cory Donald Crain

The Wilkie Service Award

This young woman has spent many hours in the service of others both on the Governor Dummer campus and in the surrounding communities. Her selflessness is expressed in the variety of service activities in which she has been involved. As a volunteer at the Anna Jacques Hospital her junior year, her supervisor was impressed with her attitude, responsibility, willingness, cooperation, and her competence. The hospital indicated they would enjoy having her return. As a senior she again volunteered at the hospital where her work this time was rated as excellent in all categories of responsibility and patient care.

Here on the Governor Dummer campus she has assisted with the Special Olympics Program for the past four years in a row. It is very unusual for a student to be involved with the Special Olympic Program and an outside service agency during the same period. Other service activities have included being a Big Sister to a freshman, co-chairperson of the Red Key, and she has also been involved on the Drug and Alcohol Advisory Committee.

Amazing Grace

(Congregation: please Join in singing)

Amazing grace: How sweet the sound, that saved a soul like me.
I once was lost but now am found,
was blind but now I see

'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear,
and grace my fears relieved;
how precious did that grace appear the hour I first believed.

The Lord has promised good to me,
His word my hope secures;
He will my shield and portion be as long as life endures.

AMERICA, THE BEAUTIFUL

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For pur,le mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain.
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears.
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

Underclassmen

Pass the scepter quietly. No need for fanfare, circumstance, not even bright lights. The Junior class needs no introduction. It's a beacon unto itself. Deeds and actions, thus far, exalt the Junior class commitment to embrace the challenges the Senior class has bequeathed. An inheritance that the Junior class will preserve for the posterity of GDA.

If "diversity is but strength," as the American democracy has illustrated, then the Junior class is well endowed. This most notable quality will guide this class to infinite possibilities.

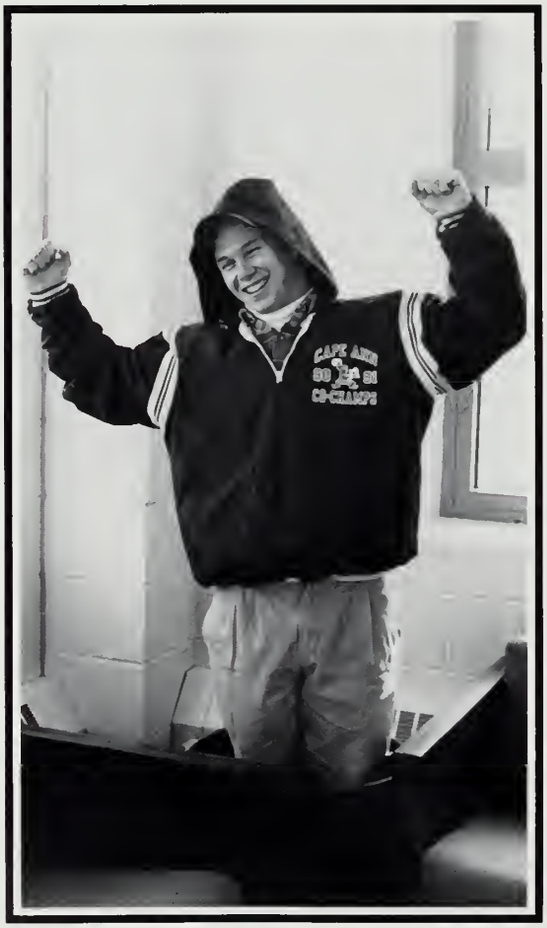

Juniors

CAPE ANN
CO-CHAMPS

The sophomore class has made great strides in all areas of GDA life since last year. We have contributed greatly in the arts and have participated in the music concerts, Guilds, as well as in community service work. We accepted the academic changes that challenged us this year and have demonstrated excellence. We have also shown exceptional talent in theater and athletics. We look forward to our Junior and most critical year where we hope to further our achievements as upperclassmen. We will never forget the memorable experiences each of us has had with each other this year.

Class of '95

Sophomores

This has been a positive year for the freshman class. Both academically and athletically, the freshmen contributed something in some small shape or form to this community. After a brief adjustment period in the beginning of the year, the freshmen began to learn everyone's name and strong friendships began to form.

Academically, the freshman class has many strengths. The first quarter saw over ten freshmen to make high honor roll and several others making honor roll. As the year progressed, these students remained at their academic capabilities.

Athletically, the freshman class had only a few males play at the junior varsity level or better in any sport. However, whatever team the freshmen were put on, everyone made some type of contribution to the team. Many females were able to make an immediate impact in athletics in their first year at GDA. A few made varsity and many were able to play a large roll on the JV team they were placed on.

As far as theatre goes, all freshmen had the experience of a drama class for one quarter of the year. Many others chose to participate in one of the three major school plays. All of them performed quite well.

So, as a whole, this first year at GDA for all of the freshmen proved to be a very positive and much accomplished year. The potential of this class in academics, athletics and theatre remains high.

Students, Faculty, and Administration returned to G.D.A. this fall with great expectations. As always a new school year brings both challenge and adjustment. This year especially G.D.A. students and faculty were initiated into the new Square One program.

As is common with anything that is new or different, the new Square One program was greeted with mixed emotions. The general consensus of opinion among the students is that the program provides more breathing room and greater personal flexibility. Yet, talking with the sampling of the student body some students are making constructive use of "unscheduled class time" while others choose to use this time as free time. One student commented, "it forces me to plan my time more carefully," while another said, "I'm able to take an afternoon nap."

The Square One program places special emphasis on the "Commitment(s) to Learning," which are to:

1. Complete all assigned work on a timely basis.
2. Attend all classes completely prepared with all materials.
3. React positively to the intellectualism of others.
4. Be mentally alert.
5. Read and write unassigned texts.
6. Defend ideas and participate in debate.
7. Respect text books and all learning tools.
8. Use and respect the library as a place for quiet learning and research.
9. Demonstrate intellectual honesty.

The Square One program allows the students to participate in their educational destiny. It also anticipates the students' initiative instead of relying on the requirements of G.D.A. The general consensus believes the program enhances the community.

Varsity Football

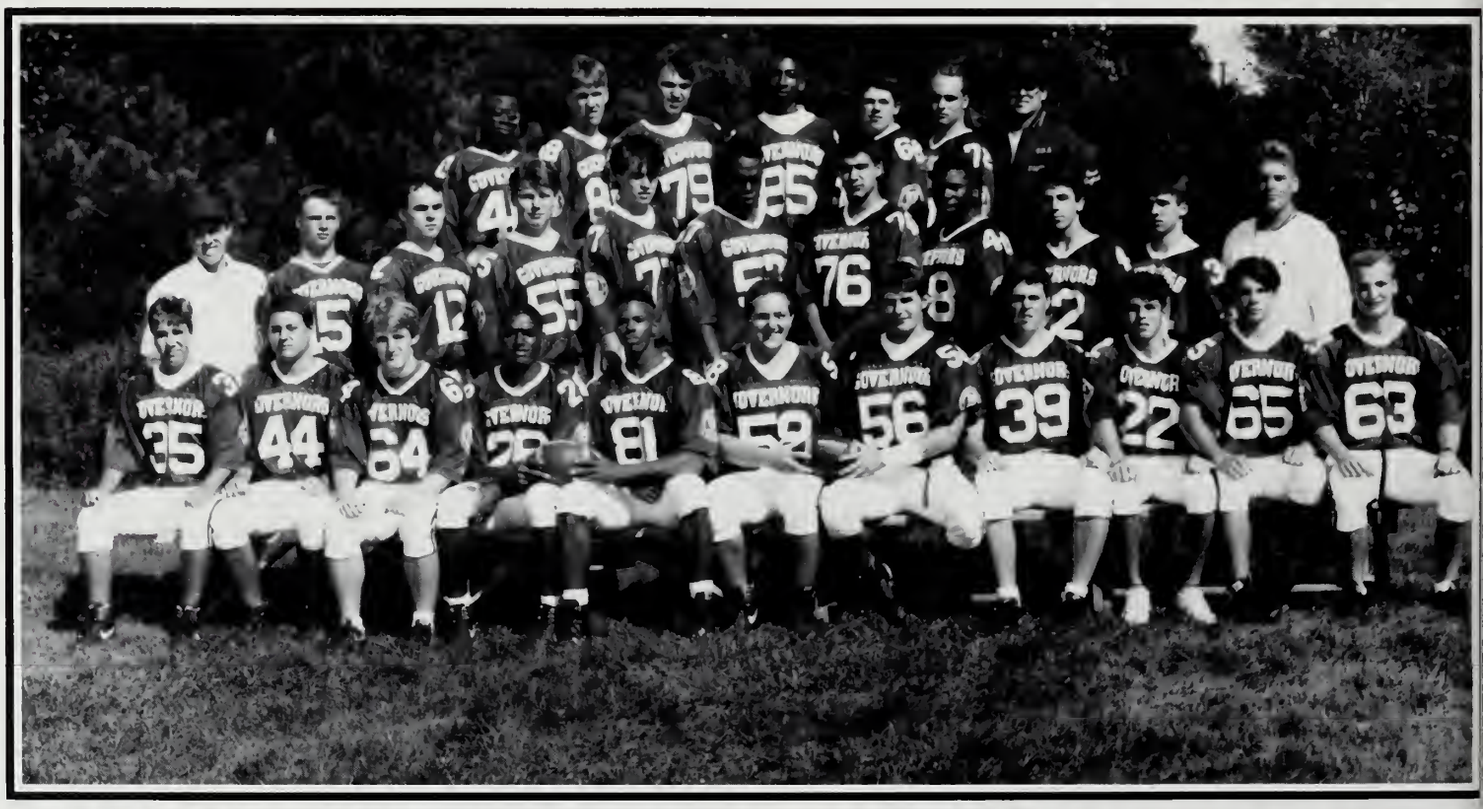

The 1992 Varsity Football team was not characterized by senior leadership, but by all around team effort. Due to many season-ending injuries to key seniors, such as Mike Nadeau, Josh Bromley, Martin Laperriere, and Captain Cory Crain, the team had to rely on players unfamiliar with the positions that they were forced to play. Mike Nannis stepped up to the challenge and he was an immense help on both sides of the ball, as was Jason Weiler.

Despite all of these injuries, the team finished with an outstanding record of 7-1. In these eight games, we accomplished many goals that were set at the beginning of the season, none of which was bigger than our opening win over Class A, Phillips Exeter Academy, 21-15. This victory set the tone for the remainder of the season, as the Govs began to pound teams on its way to facing another power house in Belmont Hill.

During the seven game win streak, the members of this squad displayed their talents. Nobody went unnoticed as the player of the week honors ranged from ball handlers, such as Jim Cavanaugh and John Shea, to unsuspecting lineman at center and tackle, namely tackle John Markos. However, the team had to put these accomplishments behind them and concentrate on the big game against Belmont Hill. Despite the Governors, the Hillies overwhelmed us with great team speed. However, this defeat did not undermine our outstanding effort, won take away from our talented players. Incredibly enough, we had six players who were nominated to the All-league team. They were three of the captains, Jason Benedict, Shawn Markey, and John Shea, followed by three underclassmen, Jim Cavanaugh, Saiyid Brent and newcomer Damu Courtney. The latter three are just a fraction of the talent that is coming back to lead the 1993 Govs to victory. Good Luck and Kill Belmont Hill!!!

Varsity Field Hockey

The 1992 field hockey team was persistent in contending with every team on the schedule. With the introduction of a new coach, the team learned discipline from late nights on the field or in the field house. Coach Blanchard brought with her extensive knowledge of the sport, a new defense which was executed proficiently by Kasey McGarrigle, Gretchen Scharfe, Casey Deschamps, and Jen Sheehan, supporting captain Dawn Morril in goal. The offense was fronted by captain Katie Mack, Cathy Perry, Amanda Hirsch, and Molly Scharfe.

Although the season was not as successful as the team expected, beating #1 St. Mark's was the highlight. Next year's team should prove successful with twelve returning players including co-captains Perry and McGarrigle. Good Luck!

Varsity Women's Soccer

The 1992 Women's Varsity Soccer team showed the ISL who Governor Dummer Academy was. The team possessed enormous talent and determination. We entered the season as the underdogs and emerged at the top of the league. This was due to our new Head Coach, Anna Hill, and Coach Susan Perry who gave us our support and encouragement. We also welcomed new players Corey Champaign, Brandy Fisher, Jackie Grandmaison, and Maria Fallon.

Our offense was incredible with Becky Vieira leading the attack followed by Kate squared (Kate Manzella and Kate Tierney). GDA's defense, however, was the core of the team. Noelia Kvaternik, Beth Delisle, Amy Benedict, Maria Fallon, Niki Whelan and capt. Rachel Haynes kept the score down and the ball in the offensive end.

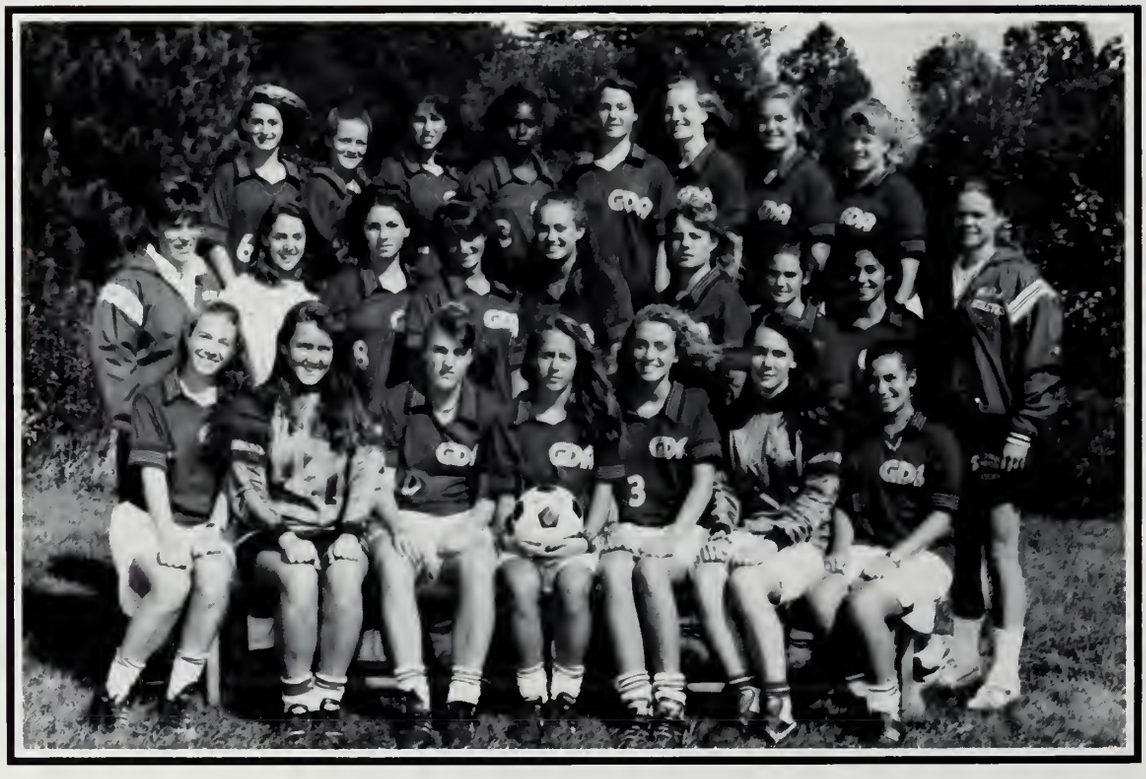

Next year the team will miss Cara Marcous, Karen Filip, Corey Champaign, and Rachel Haynes. But memories of defeating Brooks and leadership from Becky Vieira, Noelia Kvaternik, and Niki Whelan will no doubt ensure a terrific season next year.

Varsity Men's Soccer

This year's Varsity Soccer team has a lot of heart and soul. Thanks to the head coach Mr. Karin and assistant coach Mr. Nelson for a great season. Under the leadership of co-captains Josh Pike and Matt Cssselini, we were able to win back the Navins Cup from Brooks in a 2-1 victory. The Navins Cup was awarded to Jeremy Lyons. The most improved player was Jorge Ochoa. Good Luck to next year's captains, Takeshi Kawaji, Jayson Coughlin, and Brendan Forrest.

Men's Cross-Country

Coaches Abu and White, J. Walsh, G. Farmer, Coach Abu.

With a returning improved nucleus of exceptional runners, the Men's Varsity Cross-Country Team had according to Mr. Abu "a crop of outstanding runners." Under the tutelage of Abu and led by co-captains Gil Farmer and James Walsh, the team went on to place 4th at the I.S.L. championship and 5th at the New England.

Next year's team will only be better. Losing only one senior, James Walsh, and with returners co-captains Gil Farmer and Tim O'Keefe as well as Jon Stetler, Edwardo Briones, Tom Faulkner, Tom Smith, Barak Kimball, and hopefully some new students, look for the team to come back with top 3 finishes in the I.S.L. as well as the New England.

Many thanks to Coaches Abusamra, and White and co-captain Gil Farmer. Best of luck to all of next year's Harriers.

ISL Champ. 4th place
N.E. Div. 3 Champ. 2nd place
Final Record 8-0

Again, for the second time in two years, the women's cross-country team finished its season undefeated. We had an outstanding pack of our top three runners which helped to insure many wins. This pack included newcomers Cindy White, Jackie Bean, and senior captain Ilse Abusamra. Cross country is definitely a team effort and could not have been successful without the constant strength behind us including seniors Nellie Godfrey and Coral Keith, junior Yesenia Ayala, and sophomore Marisela Aguilera.

At the start of the season, our team had modest expectations of the fall, but after a few meets, we began to grow. In spite of a few injuries along the long hard road, the team overcame everything and came out remarkably well. Our team was most likely the smallest in the Independent School League but also one of the strongest we entered the two championship meets with very high hopes. In the ISL championships, we finished a fine fourth place, but we were not satisfied. The next weekend at the New England championships we were determined to do better. After all, we had worked hard for our achievements. Fortunately, all went well at the New England's, we scored places one, two, four, twenty-ninth, and thirty-fourth which led us to a second place team finish. We could not have been happier on the bus home that evening. Three members of the team; Cindy White, Jackie Bean, and Ilse Abusamra were elected all New England Team members and ISL team members, which is very impressive.

Thank you to Mr. Abu, Mrs. Abu, and Mr. White for all your support and effort throughout the season. Most importantly, thank you to all of my team members who worked hard for what we accomplished this season. It was very rewarding for me to captain such a successful team after four years of running.

I wish you all good luck next year.

Volleyball

This year was a building year and the team did an excellent job pulling itself together. Each person had to learn her team mates' strengths and weaknesses, including her own, so that the team could work together. Many players were inexperienced at the varsity level and handled the challenge admirably.

We didn't win all of our games, but even when we lost we did it with style. That's one thing our team had: Style and a positive attitude. Our coach gave us that attitude through his excellent coaching. His role was difficult because our numbers were few and our skills widely diversified. He managed to bring a balance to the team. The result was our respectable record and a favorite cheer "Attitude". We placed third in the ISL's, three of our members receiving all league: Nancy Stevenson, Angela Ives, and Karen Filip. Angela Ives also received the Coaches Award and Karen Filip received MVP.

The hard work of the team, an incredible job on the manager's (Josh Manring) part, a good coach, and the attitude that is needed to win set the tone for next year's team. They have a good foundation and should do really well. Good Luck to them and whoever becomes captain.

Varsity Men's Hockey

After last year's 16-6 record and a bid to the New England Division I Tournament, the 1992-1993 Varsity Men's Hockey Team had a large task awaiting them during this season. With changes in the coaching staff and few veteran players, which included only six seniors, this year's squad looked forward to finishing at least in the top three spots of the very competitive Keller Division and another bid at the tournament.

The new head coach, Babe Ceglarski, was looking forward to a great season especially with the help of the new assistant coach, Derek Sullivan '89. Long will be remembered the hard, physical practices throughout the season, but nothing could compare to the emotional pain the team suffered in the first half of the season.

A big win over Exeter Academy and their thirteen PG's gave a mighty spark to the season. That same week, the team suffered some "Achy Breaky Heart" losses against Thayer, Belmont Hill and Milton. Then, the Govs were unable to hold on to their lead going in the third period against the first place team St. Sebastian's; Northfield-Mount Hermon in the final of the Christmas Tournament; Hotchkiss, St. Paul's and Milton again in league play. These narrow losses hurt the Governor's chances to participate in the tournament, as we tallied only one win and one tie against Division I teams in eleven games.

Many team meetings and speeches were the solutions to the problems and certainly gave us a positive attitude for the remainder of the season.

When the Govs were next to last in the standings, light glittered at the end of the tunnel; the team decided the time to win had finally come. The streak started with a huge win against Lawrence Academy in overtime, followed by the consecutive bashings of St. Paul's, Thayer, Nobles and BB&N, twice in one week. The team worked it's way up to third place in the ISL only to suffer two tough losses against St. Sebastian's and Lawrence. The Govs recovered very well by winning their last three games of the season ending u tied for fourth with a 13-12-2 overall record. At the banquet, individual honors were given out to Sani Silvennoinen and Damian Prescott, both voted co-MVPs.

It was said last year that "Good teams always find a way to win!", and the Governors, unlike many teams that would have surely quit halfway through the season, DID TAKE CARE OF BUSINESS by overcoming adversity, while always keeping a positive attitude and working hard day-in and day-out; we sent a message to other teams that the Governors will always be one of the top teams in the league, no matter what task stands in their way.

Varsity Women's Hockey

This year's varsity women's ice hockey team made history for Governor Dummer Academy! For the first time ever we had a near perfect record, losing only twice, and just missing the New England Championships by falling into second place.

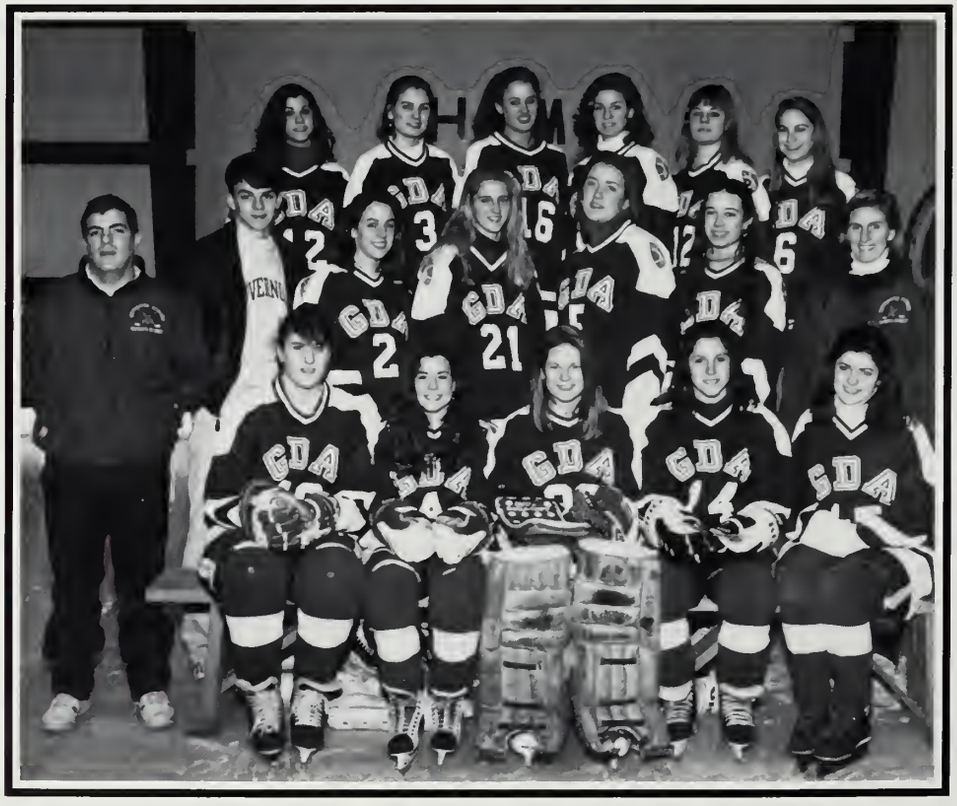

Corey Champagne and Brandy Fisher were outstanding players on the team this year and were also the number one and two players in the ISL. With their skills, the leadership of captains Wendy Swartz and Katie Mack, and outstanding juniors Beth Pascucci, Beth Delisle, Noelia Kvaternik and Nikki Whelan, we had the best season on and off the ice.

Forever thanks to Mrs. Vogel and Mr. McDonell, two great coaches whose patience and enthusiasm led us to constant victory. Good luck to next year's captains, Beth Pascucci, Beth Delisle, and Brandy Fisher, and to the whole team for a great season in '94!

Wrestling

The 1992-1993 wrestling team worked hard to become one of the strongest teams that Governor Dummer has seen in years. With a combination of dedication, tenacity, and strong spirit the team grew from a gang of befuddled misfits into an invincible unit of highly skilled wrestling machines that ended with an impressive record.

The strength of the team came from the diverse composition of wrestlers. The backbone was made up of the more experienced wrestlers such as Takeshi Kawaji, Saiyid Brent, Alec Maclachlan and John Townsend. Newcomers to the team such as Mike Nannis (undefeated), Tom Hartenstein, and Henry Cho proved invaluable to the success of the season. Natural potential and eager determination to learn quickly compensated for lack of experience in some of the newer additions. They will be great assets next season as well.

The season was highlighted with several key events such as the devastation of the rival Brooks squad and the comeback wins of several tough matches. We also had the opportunity to host the Graves-Kelsey Wrestling Tournament in which several members dominated: MVP Takeshi Kawaji (2nd), Saiyid Brent (3rd), Tom Hartenstein (4th), Henry Cho (5th), and Gerry Kean (6th). Takeshi also continued to take a close 2nd place in the New England Tournament.

Thanks to Coaches Graham and Finn and to all who helped especially Mr. Seufert. Good luck to next year's captains Takeshi Kawaji and Mike Nannis.

Varsity Men's Basketball

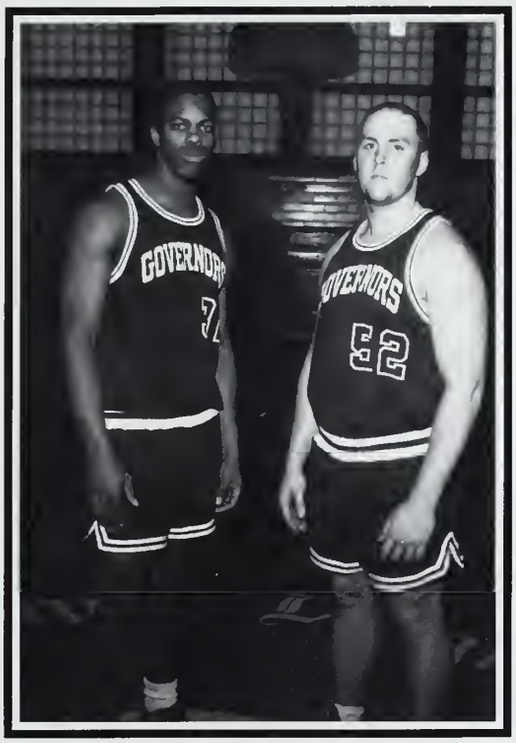

The 1992-1993 Varsity Men's Basketball t m had a very uncharacteristic season, c ning off a year in which the team was a N w England Class C Finalist. Returning t ee players from the previous year, it was a t ıe to rebuild. Faced with almost all new p sonnel the team was young but talented.

Due to many injuries throughout the entire s ıson, the starting five only played together i four league games as one unit. The disas- s nbling of the team began when Archie S ale broke his nose and in the next game, I i Metz injured his neck concluding his s ıson.

Through all the problems the team still r naged to be in the running for the playoffs, i t was not for the final loss versus Belmont H ll. Although the Governors' season came ı short, the season was symbolized by hard v rk and perseverance.

We would like to extend Good Luck to r xt year's team and their captains, Gil H rmer and Izzi Metz.

Varsity Women's Basketball

This year's season proved to be yet another building year for the women's basketball team. With only one senior, co-captain Dawn Morrill, the next few years ahead will be quite successful. Junior co-captain Becky Vieira carried the team by accepting the key point guard position vacated last season.

This team has a lot of enthusiasm and character, which will be continued by Ashley Russell, Jackie Bean, Laurie Carrier, and newcomer Kate Manzella. The twins, Jen Sheehan, Stephanie Kinloch, Christine Holbrook, and Megan DiTolla possessed the dedication and humor which eased the rough winter months. The addition of Coach Anna Hill helped the program to expand and improve.

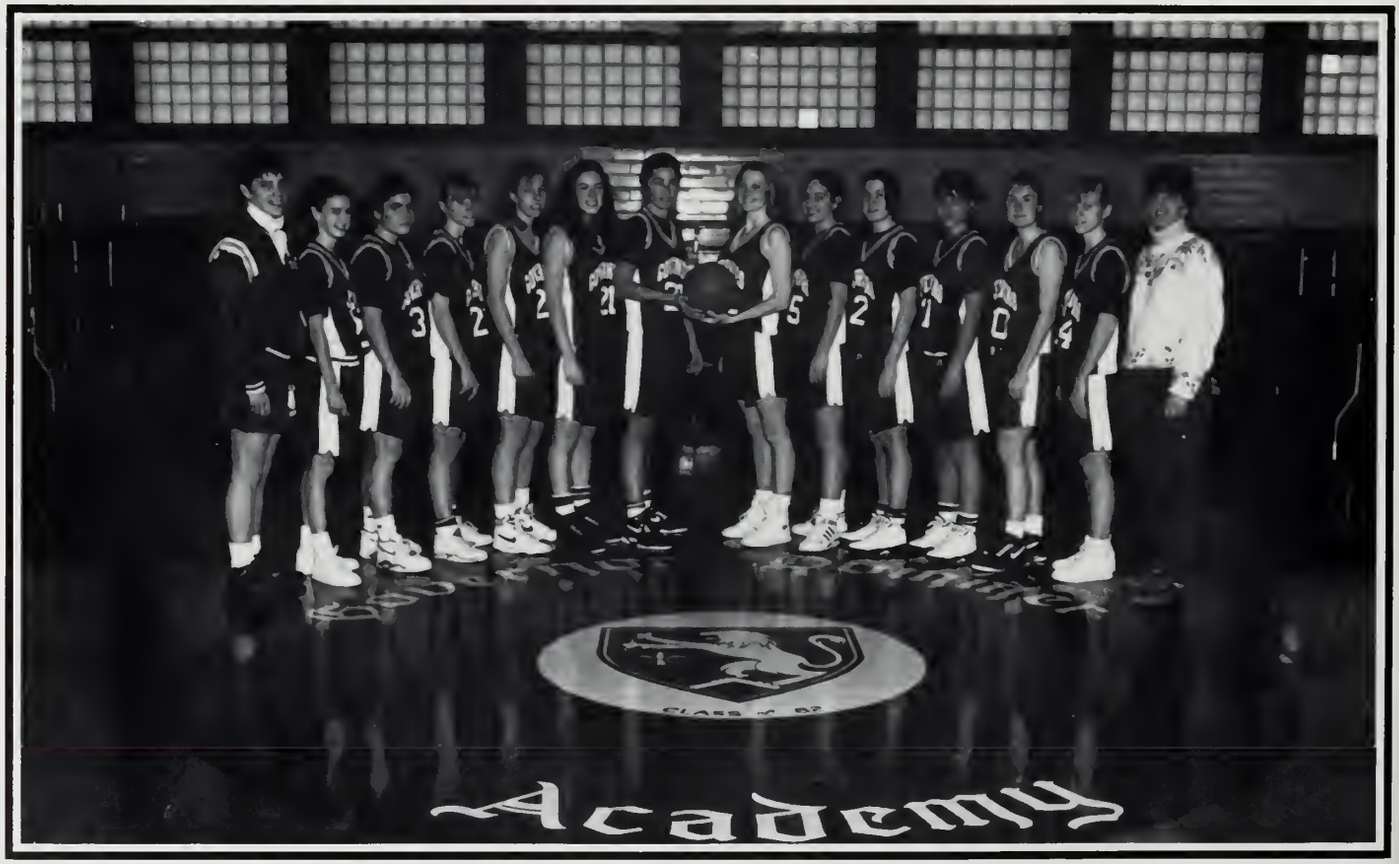

Some unforgettable moments: Kate singing the Bodyguard theme song, forgetting the balls at Exeter, taking out Brooks' top player in the first three minutes, 16-12-8-4, Ashley's Alladin boxers around the ankles, making Nobles sweat, and new uniforms!!

Congratulations to Ashley for being elected co-captain for next year and receiving the coach's award. Same to Becky matching her accomplishments last year as MVP, ISL Honorable Mention, and co-captain for next year. Thank you Andrea for sticking with the team as manager, and Matt Prunier.

Miss Childs, everyone will miss you next year, but thanks for the four years and good luck in your endeavors on the west coast. Good luck girls, I'll see you next year against Thayer.

Men's Track

Champions!

The 1993 men's track team will be forever known as the team of Champions. We had a very successful season beating powerhouses Belmont Hill and Milton. The team was not extremely large, so virtually every member competed in several events making us the most versatile squad in the league. The dedication and zeal for excellence was evident every practice as everyone gave 100%. This constant effort from the runners, throwers, weight crew, hurdlers, and pole vaulters was a major component to our success. During the meets, the camaraderie and support for each other was exceptional. With the tutelage and encouragement from coaches we were able to develop and hone our skills to win.

Our hard work paid off in the I.S.L.'s when we took third and in the following week when we won the New England Prep School Divison III Championships. A thirty-one year old mile relay record was broken during the New Englands by Cory Crain, Tim O'Keefe, Archie Seale, and Alec MacLachlan. Cory Crain also set two new school records in the 300m intermediate hurdles and the 330y intermediate hurdles.

The seniors played a vital role in the success of the team with strong performances by: Colin O'Neill, Derek Ambrosi, Shawn Markey, Archie Seale, and MVP's Alec MacLachlan and Cory Crain. Other key performances came from: Tim O'Keefe, Eduardo Briones, Jon Stetler, Damu Courtney, Saiyid Brent, Dave Costa, Raymond Long, Todd Robbins, Mike Foster, Dart Rocha, Jason Rivera, and Juan Lopez. The entire team would like to thank Coaches Karin, Abusamra, Sullivan, Caputo, and Hyslop for their infinite dedication and commitment. Good luck next year!

(Five people equal one electorial vote. Total electorial votes: 85. Electorial votes needed to win: 43. Participation: 81%.)

1992 was a very unpredictable election year. The three candidates George Bush, Bill Clinton and Ross Perot ran vigorously, shifting their rank in the polls every week seemingly. Many students felt confident during the New Hampshire primary that incumbent President Bush was unequivocally headed for a second term. Other precocious political analysts predicted billionaire businessman Ross Perot to sway the American public and win the Presidency, because of his zeal and "down to earth" frankness. When November arrived, however, a significant percent of faculty and students expressed their support for Governor Bill Clinton.

On November 3, GDA had its own mock election organized by History Department Chairman Bill Quigley and student volunteers. Governor Clinton took 50% of the total popular vote compared to Bush's 29% and Perot's 21%. In the electoral college votes Clinton had 38% to Perot's 11% and Bush's 4%. The GDA electoral college consisted of a faculty staff group, ten dormitories and a day student group, where five people signified one electoral vote. Our mock election was surprisingly similar to the national election results proving that GDA as well as the nation are ready for change.

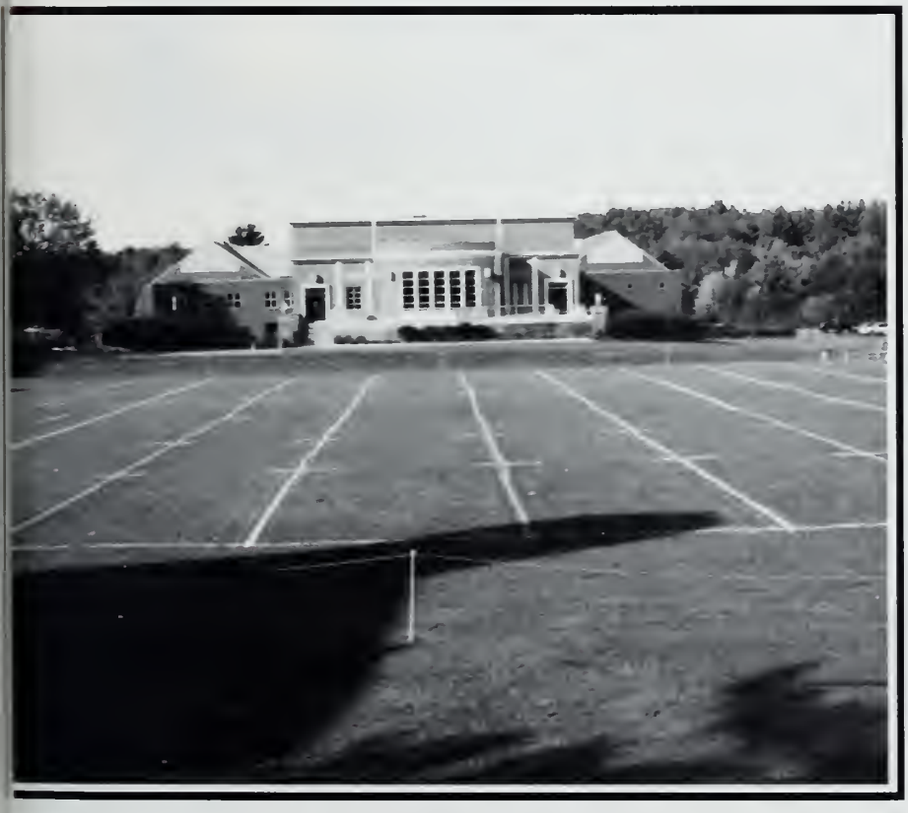

On October 3, the Academy dedicated the football field and the Noyes Library to Arthur W. Sager and Thomas McClary Mercer.

The football and lacrosse field was dedicated as the "Arthur W. Sager Bowl." Mr. Sager was a member of 1928 United States Olympic team, and he was also a football coach at Governor Dummer.

The Noyes Library classroom was dedicated in the name of Thomas McClary Mercer. He was a chairman of the English department who taught from 1930 to 1969.

On October 17, the new field house was officially dedicated in the name of Carl A. Pescosolido, Jr. He was a Trustee since 1970, and president since 1980. He graduated from GDA in the Class of 1955, and he was an important leader on the Board of Trustees, and in the recent $17 million campaign. This was, however, a small ceremony compared to his contribution to the Academy.

Special Olympics

Sunday, November 1st, was the Fifth Annual Special Olympics Tournament. Faculty advisors Kelly Eaton and Susie Childs, eight seniors including: Josh Bromley, Wendy Swartz, Matt Cassellini, Andrea Manning, Ilse Abusamra, Chris Yeagley, Saundra Waton, and Coral Keith and more than 200 student Volunteers, coordinated the entire program, organized 400 Special Olympics athletes and over 800 visitors.

Olympians had to compete in soccer, basketball and cycling events. These athletes had been training and preparing for several months to compete in the tournament. After all the games were completed, the athletes received medals in the gymnasium for their excellence and athletic spirit.

Kwanzaa preparations:

Face of Racism	Ariele Ebacher
Taking of Names	Gil Farmer

On January 15, Governor Dummer Academy paid tribute to one of the strongest and most eloquent leaders in American history, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. This day not only celebrated Dr. King's achievements, but also honored Malcom X, Maya Angelou, leaders from civil and women's rights movements, and the souls who fought persistently for equality of all men, women, and children.

The students and faculty congregated in the Moseley Chapel and Saiyid Brent began the festivities by reading Dr. King's powerful "I Have A Dream" speech. Six members of the faculty and administration approached the podium one at a time and reminisced about the struggles and horrors of 1968. Nathan Goldstein and Sarah Karp spoke next about the changes and events of 1992: the LA riots, Anita Hill, Rodney King, music, art, and censorship. Lamar Robinson, Richard Dailey, Brad Walker, Gil Farmer, and Ariele Abacher concluded the morning celebration by reading poetry or expressing their feelings and insight about Dr. Martin Luther King Day.

The school assembled again in the afternoon to celebrate Kwanzaa, an Afro-American holiday. The seven days of Kwanzaa, Imoja (unity), Kujichagulia (self-determination), Ujima (collective work), Ujamma (cooperative economics), Nia (purpose), Kuumba (creativity), and Imani (faith) were recognized and honored by the lighting of a candle for each day. The ceremony ended by the reading of friend's and relative's names who had passed on but still remain in our hearts. Succeeding the Kwanza celebration, many students walked to the Parker River in memory of Angel Talavera.

Dance

If one were to take only five returning dancers, add seven newcomers, give them a short season interrupted by a vacation and a teacher almost nine months pregnant, the success of their annual dance production would be greatly challenged. To complicate matters more, major snowstorms postponed their show not once but twice. Reviewing these factors, the G.D.A. Dancers justifiably deserved the applause they received for pulling off another solid show.

The inspiration and choreography of the show entitled "Eve's Quest for Her Perfect Image" were once again due to the talent and creativity of Fontaine Dollas-Dubus. Always eager to present meaningful and unique ideas, Fontaine's vision this year was to have a number of pieces tied together with a common theme, addressing the struggle of women to find which character fits them, and portraying the message that being yourself is always best.

Dancing to a variety of music including Wynton Marsalis, Bach, Robert Palmer, and U2, the dancers presented images of women as housewives, businesswomen, sex symbols, and socialites, depicting each stereotype perfectly from their feather dusters to their jewels.

The show was shorter than usual and simple in both choreography and costumes. Responsible for choreography were Fontaine, with the help of friend Susan Atwood Cara Marcous for the opening Smith & Com pany number, and all the dancers for loos improvisation.

Dedicated four-year seniors Kristen Han and Cara Marcous (Eve) exhibited talent character and leadership throughout the sea son and the show. Other seniors include Ingrid Eilertson and Coral Keith, and begin ners Cara Endyke and Rachel Haynes. Othe dancers included Nicole Abdulla, Liz Clif ford, Liz Corcoran, Ariele Ebacher, Jane Liv ingston, Kate Tierney and Mara Zanfagna.

Clockwise: Mrs. Dollas, C. Keith, C. Marcous, R. Haynes, J. Livingston, A. Ebacher, K. Tierney, M. Zanfagna, E. Corcoran, K. Hand.

CONGRATULATIONS JAY!

I'LL MISS YOU
LOVE AMY

Dear Stash,

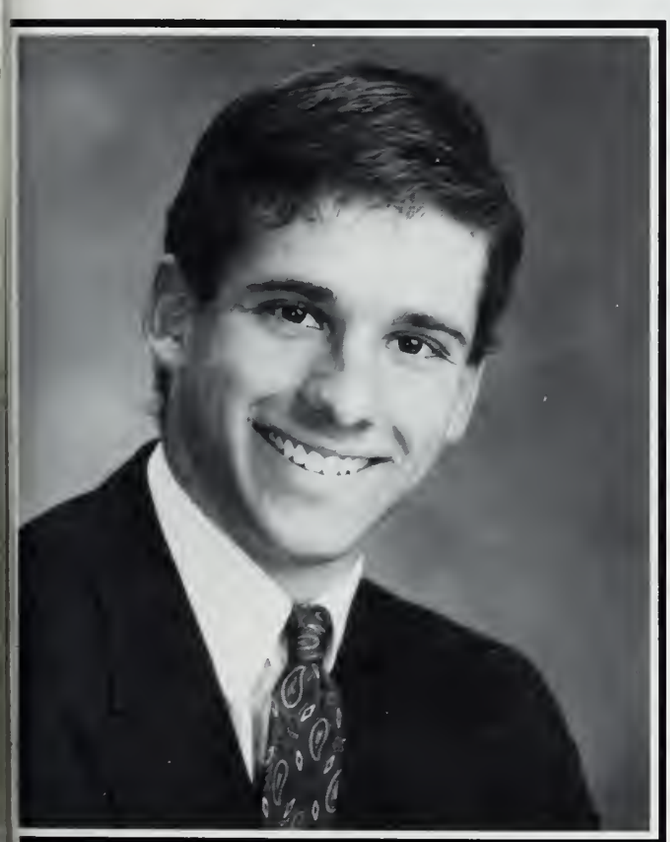

This poem so accurately expresses our feelings for you.

Love and Happiness,
Mom and Dad, Daphne, Lisa, Stephanie

am so happy with the direction
that your life
is taking you
All of your decisions and all of your actions are so noble and intelligent
I often think about how you were the same way
when you were a little boy
I hope that you remain so in control of your life forever
And I want you to know that sometimes you will make mistakes and when those times occur
the proudest mother in the world is always here
to encourage you to understand you
to talk with you to support you
and to love you forever

Susan Polis Schultz

"Your first movie critique was from this rocker."

Derek, we're so proud of you-success is yours for the taking.
We will always be here for you, BG+SH.
Love & kisses,
Mom, Dad + Dana

Thanks for everything. We are very proud of you. Good luck in all your future endeavors.
Love,
Mom, Dad & Kathryn

GROWING UP
MARCHETTE GAYLORD CHUTE

When I grow up I'll carry a stick
And be very dignified,
I'll have a watch that will really tick,
My house will be tall and built of brick,
And no one will guess that it's just a trick,
And I'm really myself inside.

Congratulations, Tim!

Beautiful Then

And Beautiful Now

Congratulations, Andrea!

We Love You, Mom & Dad.

CONGRATULATIONS ANNE ON A JOB WELL DONE!

You've Come A Long Way Boyntonettes!

Live Life
To Its Fullest!
LOVE, KATE

Listen to the Mustn'ts, child.
Listen to the Don'ts.
Listen to the Shouldn'ts
The Impossibles, the Wonts.
Listen to the Never Haves
Then listen close to me —
Anything can happen, child,
Anything can be.

— S.S.

This above all,
To thine own self be true,
And it must follow as
The night the day,
Thou canst not then be False to any man

— W.S.
